EXCLUSION OPTIONS

Exclusion is very useful to help someone have time away from the Casino (a break) or quit gambling. Exclusion helps when a person is tempted to gamble and trying not to. Exclusion provides the person and others some certainty that gambling will not be permitted.

1. Self Exclusion: When a customer makes the choice to stop, at least for a period of time.

2. Casino Exclusion: The Casino can issue these based on our observations and information. We also welcome concerns brought to us by friends or relatives of our customers.

We offer exclusion periods from 3 months to a maximum of 24 months.

We aim to ensure excluded persons are refused entry to the Casino. Excluded persons may return once the exclusion period has ended and they have met the Re-Entry criteria.

Re-Entry involves a simple, two-step process:

- 1. Providing a letter verifying that the appropriate counselling has been completed
- 2. Meeting with Christchurch Casino Management
